WITH SUNBURNED FACES

THE FISHING PARTY RETURN TO WASHINGTON.

While Absent the Chief Magistrate Attended Strictly to Pectoral Pleasure. The Outhwaite Bill Favorably Reported. Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The president, Postmaster General Dickinson and Col. D. S. Lamont arrived in Washington at 7 o'clock a.m. There was a small crowd of travelers in the station, but the president passed through almost unrecognized by the railroad officials. He and Col. Lamont were driven direct to the White House. They are both very much sunburned, the president's face, however, showing the most decided coloring. Col. Lamont said to an United Press reporter:

"We got in at 7 o'clock, having come from Fire Island with only one or two stops. The president went on board the Susquehanna Thursday night, and did not leave her except to fish until Sunday night at 11 o'clock. These stories about his visits to various places on the route are untrue. He did not take a meal off the yacht, and there was no one of the party at any time except those who were with us when we left New York. We caught a lot of fish and had a splendid time all through. The president caught his share of the fish."

The Outhwaite Bill.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Mr. Frye, from the select committee on Pacific railroads, reports favorably to the senate the Outhwaite bill, to refund the Union Pacific and Central Branch Union Pacific companies' debt. It is identical with the bill which has been unanimously reported by the committee on Pacific railroads in the house. Mr. Frye, in presenting it, said the committee found much greater difficulty in formulating an adjustment and settlement with the Central Pacific than with the Union Pacific, and is not yet ready to make any report touching that company.

Counsels Recognized.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The president has recognized Jose Francisco Gonzalez as consul of the United States of Mexico for Rio Grande City, Texas, and its dependencies, and Joaquin Ma Torroja, consul of Spain at Key West, Fla.

Senator Reagan's Pocket Picked.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Senator Reagan, of Texas, had his pocket picked of $100 last Friday night. The matter has been reported to the police, but no clew to the thief has yet been found.

NINE DAYS IN A WELL.

The Awful Experience of J. John Anderson, a Nebraska Well-Digger.

JOHNSTOWN, Neb., Aug. 1.—John Anderson, who was imprisoned in a well nine days and released Sunday, says that when the boards and sand closed in over him he was crowded into a box about two feet square and with not enough room for him to stand erect. He could not get on his knees or sit down, but had to stay in a crouching position during the whole of his imprisonment.

"About the first three days," said Anderson, "I got along very well, but after that I began to want water badly. The fourth day when it rained, heard what I thought was water slowly dripping. Feeling around, I found it, and holding my mouth open, I managed in this way to get about a dozen drops of water, which gave me much relief. I had no difficulty in breathing until the well came so near being filled by sand occasionally coming in, caused by the diggers above. I had breathed the air over so much that it had become impure, causing me to feel a smothering sensation, but about this time the rescuers got near enough to me to let in air from above."

"By having a good supply of chewing tobacco I did not suffer so much for food as might have been expected. From the beginning I could hear considerable that was said and done above. I heard the wagon when it started to town for lumber, and heard some one say, 'The man is dead,' and the order given to try to pull my box out. When they began to pull I knew there was great danger of the boards giving way and crushing me, and for my own safety, and to give evidence of being alive, I cut the ropes, and heard the exciting talk that prevailed when it was discovered that I was alive. It was music to me, and from that time on I was hopeful of being rescued."

"About the sixth day I felt something crawling upon my hand and found it to be a fly. I thought from this that an opening had been made from above. I was correct, for soon a wet rag was passed to me. In reaching it to me it became covered with sand, but no honey ever tasted better than that wet rag. Soon a bottle of water and a piece of bread were given me, and I was truly thankful."

"From this time on I began to gain strength, and by helping my rescuers the time passed quicker than one would suppose. When my feet, which are badly swollen, are better, and I dare eat a square meal. The increased rate will go into effect September 1."

Dynamite Bombs in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 1.—Last Saturday Al Hubstreet, a saloonkeeper at No. 159 Court street, vacated the premises without word or warning to his landlord, Mr. J. A. Deckebach. The latter, while looking around the deserted premises, found concealed in a closet five pieces of gas pipe charged with some material supposed to be dynamite.

The bombs, if such they be, are now in the possession of Chief Deitsch. Hubstreet moved to No. 57 Calhoun street, and is under police surveillance.

Steve Brodie Wants His Lord.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Steve Brodie, the bridge jumper, from whom the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children caused Gertie Lord, sixteen years of age, of Albany, to be taken to the Institution of Mercy until twenty-one years of age, procured a writ of certiorari to-day, returnable to-morrow, for the purpose of securing her release. Brodie and Gertie still declare themselves anxious to marry.

Cowboyism in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—The discovery of the two Texas cowboys who have been engaged so extensively in horse stealing, has been followed by the capture of two men who had just begun operations on an equally extensive scale. They gave their names as W. H. Cogswell and W. Hanna. They are said by the police to have stolen a number of animals on Saturday, which have been recovered.

Epidemic of Typhoid Fever.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The Tribune's Steubenville, O., special says that typhoid fever is epidemic at Toronto, a town of 3,000 people ten miles up the Ohio river from Steubenville. Forty cases of the most malignant type have been reported.

A PLAYWRIGHT'S END.

Bartley Campbell, After Two Years in an Asylum, Dies.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Bartley Campbell, the well known playwright and author of "My Partner," "My Gerlsline," "Clio," "The White Slave," "Paquita," "Fairfax," "Siberia," and other popular dramas, died Monday afternoon of softening of the brain at the insane asylum at Middlebury, Conn., where he has been confined for two years. Mr. Campbell commenced life as a lawyer, but forsook that profession for journalism. He worked at one time as a reporter on the Cincinnati Enquirer. He then drifted south, where he commenced his career as an author. Mr. Campbell was born in Allegheny City, Pa., August 14, 1843. He has made several fortunes out of his literary work, but he died without a penny. He leaves a wife and two sons.

Litigation is now in progress over his rights as manager in the Fourteenth Street theater, New York, and it is thought his widow will recover several thousand dollars. After he had gained fame through "My Partner" and the "Galley Slave" Campbell could not fill the demand upon him for plays. It is said his royalty on "My Partner" was $300,000, and he made lots of money out of "Siberia" and "The Galley Slave." The last named was successfully produced in Australia and Germany. Campbell took a company to England and produced "My Partner," but it did not draw, and the venture was a losing one financially. The friends of the unfortunate but brilliant playwright say that the blow which ended in insanity was caused by the failure of "Paquita," a play upon which he based his hopes, and to produce which in magnificent style he spent a mint of money. He took no care of himself, and his faculties gradually gave way, developing into softening of the brain, the malady which killed McCullough, the tragedian.

A HOOSIER MURDER.

A Desperado Kills a Constable Who Attempts to Arrest Him Near Tipton.

TIPTON, Ind., Aug. 1.—Another murder has occurred in this county, making the second in four months. George Crutchfield, a constable of Madison township, came to Tipton Monday and swore out a warrant for the arrest of John Hadley, charged with stealing a horse, saddle and other articles. Hadley is a desperate character, and the warrant was placed in the hands of Sheriff Bates. Bates and Crutchfield immediately started in pursuit of Hadley, and when near Curtissville, a small town ten miles northeast of here, the two officers separated. Crutchfield met Hadley coming down the road in a wagon, and informed him that he had a warrant for his arrest. A few words passed, and the two men pulled their revolvers. Crutchfield's gun missed fire, and Hadley shot him three times in the abdomen, after which he made his escape. Crutchfield is dead, and hundreds of men are searching for the murderer, and threaten to lynch him if caught.

DYNAMITE ECHOES.

Bauereisen, Godding and Koegel Have Another Hearing.

AUORA, Ill., Aug. 1.—Bauereisen, Godding and Koegel, three of the men charged with the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy conspiracy, had another hearing in court Monday. The only new evidence Bowles gave was that Bauereisen purchased some ammonia and several packages of blue vitriol at a drug store, and gave it to him with instructions to go to Mendota and put it in the tanks of several locomotives. He (Bowles) went to Mendota, but the engines were so closely watched that he had no opportunity to use the stuff. The prisoners were held to bail. Bauereisen in $9,000 on three charges of conspiracy, malicious mischief, and unlawful handling of dynamite; Godding in $6,000 on two charges of conspiracy and handling dynamite, and Koegel in $3,000 on charge of handling dynamite.

Cable War Ended and Rates Raised.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The cable war finally settled Monday when the officials of the different companies signed the agreement raising the rate from twelve and a half cents to twenty-five cents a word, and making the press rate ten cents a word instead of six cents. The document was signed abroad at noon, and immediately upon the receipt of the news here the executive committee of the companies met and ratified the action of their connecting cable and telegraph lines. The increased rate will go into effect September 1.

$2,000,000 FIRE IN HAYTI.

THE CAPITAL, PORT AU PRINCE, SWEEP BY FLAMES.

The Fire Believed to Have Been Started at the Request of President Salomon. Mansfield, Ohio, Has a Big Blaze—A Steamboat Burned—Other Fires.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Aug. 1.—The steamship Villaverde has brought full tidings of the great incendiary fires that have swept Port au Prince, the capital of Hayti, on the 4th and 7th inst. As reported previously, the fire commenced in the chambre des députés on the afternoon of July 4, the balconies and outside passages upstairs having been set on fire.

From that point it burned down Rue d'Arceau, sweeping away the equivalent of three squares or blocks of buildings. This fire destroyed a part of the city used largely for private residences. Among them were many valuable and imposing building. The first news received here reported the loss by the first fire at $3,000,000. It is now known that the fires of both dates destroyed some eight hundred and fifty buildings, and that the loss amounts to $2,000,000.

The fire of July 7 was in another section of the arsenal district. It broke out during the afternoon in four different localities, practically at the same instant.

It seems to be more than a coincidence that the burned district should be the section occupied by the adherents of Gen. Mangat and Senator Legitime, who started the insurrectionary movement of May 17-20, and who have since been expelled. They were too dangerous for President Salomon to shoot, and he sent them off, but it is said that their petty adherents were crowded into the prison. It is believed that Salomon's own party fired that section to please him.

Fire at Mansfield, Ohio.

MANSFIELD, O., Aug. 1.—The new five-story building of P. Bissman & Company, wholesale grocers, and largest in the city, was gutted by fire at about 12 o'clock Monday night. The fire originated in the fifth story and is supposed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion. The fourth and fifth stories are a complete loss. The loss is variously estimated at from $100,000 to $120,000. Insurance on building, $15,000; on stock, $60,000. The firm had about $200,000 worth of goods on hand and did a business of $90,000 per month.

Southern Steamer Burned.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 1.—The steamboat Edward J. Gay, belonging to the Planters' and Merchants' Packet company, of this city, took fire this morning and was burned to the water's edge. She was moored at the head of First street. The boat was valued at $40,000, and was insured, principally in foreign companies. She had been withdrawn from the Bayou Sara trade last Monday and laid up for repairs.

Thirty Horses Burned Alive.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The Mutual Benefit Insurance company's stables at No. 425 West Thirteenth street, was burned early this morning. Thirty horses were incinerated. Total loss $10,000.

TWO GOOD SHOTS.

Two West Virginia Old Maids Kill One Burglar and Wound Another.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 1.—Two maiden ladies, Maria and Viretta Reeves, living near Davisville, just above here, Monday night shot and killed one burglar, and mortally wounded and captured another. The encounter happened about midnight. One of the sisters saw a man in her room, seized a revolver, and fired, killing him. He was shot through the temple.

The other sister was awakened, seized a weapon and sprang on the other burglar as he was trying to escape through a window. He was too late as he fell to the ground with a bullet through his groin. Both burglars were strangers in these parts, but are supposed to be old timers.

The two heroic ladies are being lionized by the neighbors. They are generally supposed to keep a large sum of money in their house.

Struck a Snag.

ALTON, Ill., Aug. 1.—The steamer Judith struck a snag a few miles from this city Sunday afternoon, and sank in five minutes. The crew and ten passengers escaped to shore in the steamer's yawl and saved most of their effects. The shipwrecked party spent Sunday night at a farm house, and several of them made their way to this city Monday. Capt. Hall stood at the scene of the wreck. The boat had on board 4,253 sacks of wheat, also a lot of cattle and hogs. The animals swam ashore and scattered through the woods. Soon after the accident the boat broke in two, and is a total wreck. The loss is about $20,000; partially insured.

An Ungrateful Trio.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 1.—A boat containing two men and a woman capsized at Chelsea Park Saturday night H. F. Barton, of Chicago, at the risk of his life, jumped into the lake and pulled all the people out. The heroic young man was not even thanked and expressed his disgust by saying: "I spoiled a good suit of clothes, lost $2.10 in currency, injured my watch, broke my cane, and when that woman got her breath enough to speak, she turned to one of the men and said: 'John, this act of yours has spoiled my watch I fear. Young man, please let me pass."

Sunday Base Ball.

BUFFALO, Aug. 1.—President Cushman has called a meeting of the International Base Ball League at the Genesee house, Buffalo, on Thursday next to consider the question of Sunday base ball playing. Mr. Cushman says the Rochester and Syracuse clubs violated the constitution by Sunday's games. All the Canadian clubs in the League have sent in protests against the practice.

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & McCARTHY,
Proprietors.

WEDNESDAY EVEN'G, AUG. 1, 1888.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

To the Democrats of the Ninth Congressional District: I beg leave to submit to you my name in connection with the Democratic nomination for Congress from this district. I have no claims to urge over those of any other true Democrat, and make no announcement with such a degree of timidity. I hope to make the primary contest in such a manner as not to create dissension or division in the ranks of the party, and, whether I lose or win the nomination, I propose to remain the same unflinching Democrat I have always been. Respectfully, G. R. KELLAR. Carlisle, Ky., July 17, 1888.

FOR CONSTABLE.

We are authorized to announce that W. L. MORAN is a candidate for Constable in Maysville precinct No. 2, at the election Monday, August 6, 1888. If he is elected, he will attend promptly and faithfully to the duties of the office.

We are authorized to announce GEO. W. COOK an independent candidate for Constable in the precinct No. 1 at August election 1888.

Notice to the County Democratic Executive Committee.

The members of the Democratic Executive Committee of Mason County are notified that a meeting of said committee will be held at the County Clerk's office Saturday, August 4th, at 2 p.m. Important meeting. THOS. J. CHENOWETH, Chairman Executive Committee.

EVERY Democrat who loves his party will turn out next Monday and cast his vote for its nominee for Sheriff. A full Democratic vote will insure an old-time majority.

We are informed by a member of the Harrison and Morton club that Mr. Forman was brought out for Sheriff by that organization. Certain it is, he is not the nominee of the Republican party. He seeks to gull the voters with the "independent racket," and is appealing every day to his Democratic friends for their support.

THE Republicans have no nominee for Sheriff, and none of them are in duty bound to support Mr. Forman. Mr. Alexander's many Republican friends will no doubt therefore take pleasure in honoring him with their support. He is worthy of any one's vote, and is certainly much better qualified for the position than Mr. Forman. Mr. Forman knows this as well as everybody else.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

MAYSICK.
Miss Bettie Welch, of St. Joseph, Mo., is visiting the family of Dr. H. L. Parry.

D. D. Allen, of Fleming, the champion wheat thresher, was here Saturday.

The Shanklin boys have about completed some three or four new tobacco barns this season.

Mrs. John Dale and son, of St. Louis, and Miss Hattie Brown, of Mt. Carmel, are visiting their father, J. H. Brown.

Wm. E. Pogue has completed and moved into his new house, on the Sumrall farm, one-and-a-half miles above this place.

John W. Alexander, our next high Sheriff, was here last week circulating among his many friends. This precinct will give him a rousing big vote.

Thomas P. Hopper is still poorly and is not expected to live. In fact, his death at any moment would not be a surprise. His sister, Mrs. Carpenter, of Fleming County, is at his bedside.

We are now passing through another heat term. Very hot and dry. The tobacco and all kinds of vegetation is suffering for rain.

GERMANTOWN.

Corn, tobacco and pastures are suffering for rain.

Elder Stafford failed to fill his appointment Sunday.

Professor Frank Kelly returned to Lexington Monday.

Mrs. Woodford and daughters have returned to their home in Bourbon County.

Mrs. Lizzie Turney and children, of Paris, are the guests her brother, L. H. Mannen.

John Pollitt and family, of Maysville, spent the day with relatives here Sunday.

Mrs. M. C. Russell, of Maysville, and Miss Johnson, of Missouri, were guests of Miss Lide Lloyd, attending church at this place Sunday.

Miss Laura Thompson returned home on Saturday from a protracted stay at Augusta. She will leave this week for a lengthy visit at Covington.

Jesse Pollock and Isaac Woodward constituting one party, and Duke Elliott and Dr. H. S. Dill, the other, visited the Blue Licks last week. The latter party made a short stay at Mayslick. They have all returned looking healthy and hearty, evidence of the invigorating qualities of that famous spring.

The union Sunday school concert announced to be held Sunday evening came off at the M. E. Church, South. The house was crowded, a great many being turned away unable to obtain seats. Numbers came from Chatham, Brooksville and Bridgeville. The singing of the elder ones, with whose voices we are familiar, was in their usual artistic style, but that of the little girls was especially praised and commended. The solo and duets rendered by little Misses and Freddie Stiles were truly charming. The two former as soprano and the latter as a contralto have voices that if properly cultivated will one day render them famous. Germantown has already sent forth a famous songstress in the person of Miss Mollie Johnston, who is astonishing the cities of Europe with her musical powers, while another in the person of Miss Sue Maggie Kackley is at Park Forest, in Illinois, and bids fair to eclipse all others. The voices of some of our little girls are pronounced by those who ought to know as superior to those mentioned when of the same age, and with the same opportunity would become equally famous. Our town is at present, we have to admit, under a very dark cloud in a moral point of view, but in its past history it has sent forth more famous men and women than any other town in the State. We have but little hope for the future among the certain plagues and with a constant stream of poison into our veins that pollutes the very air we breathe, blighting and destroying by its withering influence the fairest hopes and prospects of our people. Like the mollusk that attaches itself to a rock in the bottom of the ocean reaches out its arms and fattens by sucking in every living thing that comes within its reach, or the deadly cancer that seizes itself on the fairest portion of the human frame, sends forth its roots into the surrounding tissue, and pierces beauty, health, beauty, sickness, death, and finally, the source of disease, so is this whisky traffic. When will the intelligence and moral dignity of our people assert itself and rise superior to this withering curse?

WAGES AND WAGES.

Master Workman Hugh Cavanaugh of D. A. 48, K. of L., Has Something to Say of the Maysville Cotton Mills.

He Believes in Low Taxes and Talks of the "Cheap Labor of Europe."

The Cincinnati Telegram has been interviewing prominent people of the Queen City right and left in the past few days on the tariff question and the Mills bill. It has given many opinions on the subject, among the number that of Hugh Cavanaugh, Master Workman of District Association 48, Knights of Labor. Mr. Cavanaugh has visited Maysville on one or two occasions, and is well known here, especially among the laboring people. As he touches upon a matter that is being discussed considerably just now—the question of wages paid in the Maysville Cotton Mills—his reply to the Telegram is given in full. He said: "I believe in low taxes. As far as my trade is concerned I believe we can make shoes in the United States cheaper than anywhere under the sun. I went through the factory of Charles Felton, at Ashland, Mass., and made an estimate myself. They were making there two hundred and fifty dozen pairs of kid boots per day at a small fraction over 10 cents per pair. Of course it was all done by machinery. All this tariff question I consider a bugaboo to distract the attention of workingmen from other things.

"Talk about your cheap labor of Europe. I was in Kentucky a short time ago and found men working at 65 cents a day on a farm in the southwest part of Boone County. I was in January's cotton factory in Maysville, Ky., and found grown men working for $4.80 cents a week—twelve hours a day. I asked a young fellow to sign his name and he said: 'Excuse me, I can not write.' I asked him other questions and he replied: 'I was born here. I am now twenty-two years old and I have worked in the factory since I was seven.' He was making $4.80, only, a week, was married and his wife was working in the factory. Of the two hundred hands in the factory there not five outside of the foreman were making $1.25 a day.

"Three men called on me about four weeks ago, brass workers, who had come to this country. They were seeking work and I told them brass workers here had struck for fifty-six hours a week, and I asked them how many hours they worked in the old country. One of them, a Scotchman from Edinburg, said fifty-four, and the Irishman had worked fifty-six hours a week. They told me they earned from one pound ten to two pounds. That in our money would be from $7.50 to $10.

They paid ten shillings for board, being as good as they had been getting here. Even if there had been no objection to their working here, their condition would have been very little better than in the old country. They had tramped half way across the continent and here was the first chance they had to get a job and they would have to take the bread and butter out of some other body's mouth. That was the way they put it. They had got what we were fighting for but could not get—fifty-six hours a week."

In addition to Mr. Cavanaugh's opinion of the Mills bill, the Telegram gave the following: "E. L. Hutchins, Secretary of the Workingmen's Prohibition Club, said: I think the Mills bill will have a good effect. I am in favor of admitting free clothing, and all the necessities of life, and raw material, and of cutting down duties to the very lowest point that will raise the necessary revenue required to run the government.

"H. C. Traphagen, Acting Secretary District 48, K. of L.: I am not one of those who believe that high taxation is good for the people. I think low taxation beneficial. I can see that the rich people may readily be made richer by high protection."

A Card From Mr. Short.

To the Editor of the Bulletin: With your permission, I desire to state that it is not true that I have been circulating in the Lewisburg neighborhood, or anywhere else, the story referred to in your editorial of yesterday, headed "Unscrupulous Methods;" nor have I made any statements that would justify the report that I have been giving circulation to any such story. Yours truly, J. T. SHORT.

Father Conway's Estate.
CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—The will of the late Father Conway, Vicar-General of the Roman Catholic archdiocese of Chicago, was probated Monday. Father Conway's estate, largely life insurance, aggregated $15,000. Half of it is divided among charitable institutions and the remainder goes to his niece. Father Conway was known to thousands of Roman Catholics in various parts of the United States as a man of executive ability, learning and magnetism. He was made vicar-general in 1882. He was spoken of as a successor of Bishop Foley when he died, and there was much surprise a year ago that he was not appointed bishop of the newly created diocese of Springfield. The last sermons he ever preached were a series in opposition to Anarchy and Communism.

THE PAGODAS OF JAPAN.

Towers Which Control the Mystic Dragon of Wind and Water.

All the pagodas I saw in Japan were generally built in five stories, with very fine dark red woodwork and harmonious gray tiles, while beneath the shadow of each projecting roof are innumerable boldly carved dragons' heads peering from beneath the eaves and panels of fine wood carving between the stories. The summit is invariably crowned by an honorific symbol in metal, consisting of nine rings, disks or cupolas as the case may be, piled one above the other. On further examination we shall find that these rings and these accumulated roofs are developments of the same original simple emblem.

With regard to the construction of these towers there are instances in which the pagoda is of solid masonry throughout, but far more frequently it consists of two towers, one within the other, and between them winds a spiral staircase which leads to the summit. In this case the inner tower is generally divided into as many rooms as there are stories, the lower floor forming the temple wherein is placed the relic shrine, which, in some cases, is a miniature pagoda, while the walls around are adorned with numerous images of Buddha.

In many cases we find a pagoda erected within the court of a Buddhist temple as the storhouse of its relics. The honor thus due to Buddha was extended to such of his priests as were most distinguished for their learning and devotion, so that in many cases pagodas were erected to contain the ashes saved from the funeral pyre.

In later times, however, this primary purpose seems to have been abandoned and many of the more recent pagodas are said to have been built on the ancient model, but solely with a view to geometric influences, the tall towers being supposed to have some mysterious effect on that strange, undefinable fung shui—the mystic spirit of the dragon who rules over wind and water and who controls all human destinies. Several of the finest nine storied pagodas in the neighborhood of Canton have been erected solely for this purpose, in the belief that by their means lurking evils would be dispelled and the general peace and prosperity of the province insured.

Not only is the fertility of the fields thus provided for, but even the learning and general distinction of the citizens. Such a one was erected in the district of Sam-shue in 1860 because the prosperity of the neighborhood had for some years been failing off and the candidates for secretary honors at the great examinations had been peculiarly unsuccessful. So a three storied pagoda was erected, each story consecrated to a different deity. The god of wealth (as controlling the very foundations of prosperity) occupied the ground floor, the god of peace the second floor, while the god of learning reigned in the top story.—English Illustrated Magazine.

The Mason County Teachers' Institute will be held in this city, beginning on the 13th day of August and continuing five days. All teachers must be present. That they may see how important this is under the new law, County Superintendent Galbraith requests us to call attention to the following extracts:

At the close of the Institute the County Superintendent shall give to each teacher or other person in attendance a certificate of the number of days and parts of days that the teacher or other person had attended, which certificate of attendance shall be filed by the teacher with the Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the district, who shall make report thereof to the County Superintendent at the time of reporting the school.
